Sustainability Policy

A 2014 report prepared by Greenshoot and published by Cine-Regio (Sustainability in Vision) features case studies from various European countries of independent productions funded by regional and national agencies across Europe. The report concludes: “These examples of best practice show that progress is definitely being made and they can go towards forming the basis of sustainable production moving forward.”

We have adopted their listed examples of best practice for sustainable independent productions:

- Establishing a recycling system in the production office
- Use of recycled paper
- Emailing call sheets on all productions
- Recycling of on-set waste as legislation required it
- Respect for the environment during location shooting
- Employing local crew
- Encouraging the use of reusable water bottles in place of plastic
